JUSTICE'S COURT.—Two bellicose individuals were arrested last night for assault and battery, named respectively Powers and Roycroft—officer Boyd arresting one, and officer Woodruff the other. The combat took place in front of the Eagle Bakery, lower Main street, and soon attracted a large crowd. Mr. Powers, in his answer to the complaint, gives the particulars as tersely as we could, and with more spice: "The people thought it was a dog fight," said he, "and that's the reason they crowded around so fast; and it was a dog fight. Just as we got fairly into business the gentlemen officers came up and took me away and the other dog." Both pleaded guilty, and they will appear at 10 o'clock this morning for sentence.

A DOMESTIC SCENE.—Enough facts have been given us of a little episode in Pochie domestic life for a first-class local sensation; but we forbear taking advantage of the heart-rending, side-splitting, tear-starting and love-betraying circumstances to work it up. It happened somewhere between the two ends of McCannan street, and not over a thousand miles from the post-office, the actors being two females and one male. One of the former came in on the Hamilton coach, and, "all burning with love and fond desire," hastened to the abode of her lord; and right there, in that very abode, is where the other female comes on the stage. Down with the curtain.

PARTIES just in from St. George say the snow has entirely disappeared from that section, and that the farmers are making gardens and sowing grain. Somebody get up a petition for a direct mail between this place and that, and let us cultivate a more intimate acquaintance with our Mormon neighbors. We want some of their mid-winter sunshine and early summer fruits. A few relays of horses could easily carry a coach from Pochie to St. George in a day. A daily mail service is needed.

MOLLIE O'ROOKE showed what she knows about bucking against tough beefsteaks, yesterday morning, by throwing into the street her breakfast dishes, table-cloth and all; and if the terror-stricken waiter hadn't got out of the road she would have pitched him after them. All this happened near the middle of the day, and Mollie's house is one of the most conspicuous on Upper Main street.

SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT OF THE EPIZOOTIC.—Mr. George Booth, formerly of Mineral Hill, is said to have cured of the epizootic all the horses affected between Hamilton and Palisade, on the Woodruff & Ennor stage line. We are informed that he will soon be in Pochie, for the purpose of treating the disease here. He is very highly spoken of in the upper country.

The Mongolian portion of our population are charged with the commission of chicken thefts these bright nights. We have no doubt the alleged raids on the poultry take place; but it is not so certain that the Chinese are the raiders. The lynx-eyed detectives are on a different track.

APPOINTED JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.—Taylor R. Bird has been appointed Justice of the Peace of Clover Valley township, just below Panama valley.—M. Stone, the Justice elect, having failed to qualify. Mr. Bird is said to be well qualified for the position.

We are requested to state that the names of all who wish to become charter members of a Good Temple lodge in Pochie will be received by Charles Bowen, at the Postoffice, with a view to immediate organization.

MORE snow commenced falling about noon Sunday, and continued, periodically, the balance of the day. Yesterday was a bright, clear day, however, the snow melting away faster than it had fallen the day before.

The lengthy description of the Floral mill prevents the publication in this issue of our usual local variety.

FIRST POCCHIE QUARTZ MILL IN OPERATION.

Works Successfully in every Department—Steam Works, Amalgamating Apparatus, Dust Chambers, Etc.—Full Particulars.

Yesterday forenoon, seeing steam rising from the new Floral mill, situated in the northern suburbs of the city, we bent our steps thither, and found fifteen stamps in full operation, with every arrangement made for continuous working. Distant readers will pardon us for considering the event one of transcendent local importance, and giving it more than passing notice, when they are informed that the Floral is the first and only quartz mill at Pochie, all our ores heretofore having been reduced at Bullionville, ten or eleven miles to the south-east, where wood and water are more abundant.

THE BOILER ROOM.

We first entered the boiler room, and there spent a few moments very profitably. There are two boilers, each fifty inches in interior diameter and 16 feet long. The steam-drum is 30 inches in diameter and nine feet in length. The smoke-stack is 36 inches in diameter and 50 feet high. Live steam pipes and exhaust pipes cross each other at almost every angle, extending from the lower works in all directions. The whole is set in solid stone masonry. From 5 to 6 cords of wood are daily consumed. The boiler room is 30x25 feet in extent, including wood house.

THE ENGINE ROOM.

Passing from the boiler, we entered the engine room; and there, truly, did we behold, at a glance, enough steam mechanism of the highest order to repay us for our half mile walk through the mud and melting snow. The engines are horizontal with the patent "adjustable cut-off" attachment, by means of which the power and extent of strokes can be instantaneously regulated while the machinery is in full operation. Wonderful example of the ingenuity and intelligence of man! With its massive steam-chambers, in which is ever confined and ever passing the strength of a hundred stout horses, its gigantic steel arms, tirelessly keeping in perpetual motion hundreds of tons, this mighty motive power operates with the smoothness and regularity of the pocket chronometer. The awkward freight wagon joggling along the road makes more noise. A full detailed description we would feel incompetent to give, had we at our command the space to do so. The fly-wheel is 16 feet in diameter, makes 60 revolutions a minute, and weighs 10,000 pounds. These works, like the boilers, rest on a solid masonry foundation, eight feet deep, which is built up from bed-rock.

MANUFACTURES.

The steam works of the Floral Mill, at Pochie, were turned out by the "Ridson Iron and Locomotive Works," corner of Howard and Beall streets, San Francisco; and Pacific coast artisans need offer no better proof of their ability to cope with manufacturers in other parts of the world than they afford.

PANS AND SETTLERS.

There are six combination pans in operation, of highest capacity and constructed from the best models and in the most substantial manner. They are propelled by lighter wheels. And just below them, reached by a short flight of stairs down a 5-foot breast of masonry, are three settlers, 8 feet in diameter and 3 feet in depth, which are connected in the usual way with the REPORT ROOM.

Entering the report room, which is 36x20 feet in extent, we find there every modern facility and appliance for preparing the precious metal ready for coinage. There are three retorts, each of 1,000-pound capacity, with refining works, etc., complete.

THE ORE ROOM.

Is supplied with a magnificent drying furnace, 10x31 feet in extent, over which from 20 to 25 tons of ore are easily dried each day, ready for the batteries. But the most important feature of this department, are the excellent dust chambers connected with the batteries and drying furnace—constructed by Captain Benj. Evans, the builder, on an entirely new principle. By means of these the interior of the mill is kept free from flying dust, and almost every particle of the ore is saved. The dust, entering the chambers, ascends a few feet above the roof, where it is arrested and returned below to be again precipitated into the batteries.

ORE CASES.

Above and below the batteries, nicely adjusted on iron tracks, with turn-pile attachments, obviate entirely the use of the shovel in removing the ore after pulsing.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

A few yards distant is a monster water-tank, which will hold 20,000 gallons, from which water is conveyed through pipes to all parts of the mill. And C. H. Light, the Superintendent of the mill, has wisely utilized this inexhaustible water-supply beyond the regular business wants of the mill, by providing hundreds of feet of hose, extending all through and to the farthest corner of the building, as a precaution against fire. The tank is directly connected, by pipes of sufficient capacity, with the Floral Spring Water Company's works, and, of course, there is no danger of the supply ever being deficient.

A BLACKSMITH SHOP.

As complete as any in the city, is connected with and a part of the mill property.

AGGREGATE COST OF MILL.

Something over 100,000 feet of lumber was used in the construction of the building, at an average cost of $75 per 1,000. But as the entire basement is constructed of massive granite walls, the cost of lumber does not bear as great proportion to the entire cost as might be supposed. Elegance, as well as strength and durability, has been considered in the erection and completion of the Floral mill, and it is neatly finished and tastefully painted throughout. The aggregate cost is estimated at $65,000.

FIFTEEN STAMPS ARE IN OPERATION.

Reducing ore from the Hermes mine; but there is on the ground a vast quantity from the Huhn & Hunt, and other ledges, hauling to the mill continues, and it is probable that no mill in the district will run more regularly than the Floral. Five stamps more, making 20 in all, will be put in operation as soon as the necessary material arrives—now on the road from Palisades.

BUILDER AND MANAGEMENT.
Captain Benjamin Evans, assisted by J. C. Clark, was the architect and builder. C. H. Light is general superintendent; John Collier, amalgamator and general manager; and George W. Coffee, engineer.

We consider the construction of the Floral mill another important guarantee of the permanence and continued growth and prosperity of Pochie.

A CARD.

EDITOR RECORD: Under the head of "Strange Proceeding," the last copy of the Record had an item filled with false statements and unfair insinuations. The case of the State vs. Kelly was not dismissed at the request of the prosecuting witness, and the defendant did not agree to pay all the costs but the $15 claimed by the District Attorney. Edward Kelly was arrested on the complaint of Ann Smith, on the charge of threats against life. He appeared, accompanied by one Miles Quillan, who became his bondsman, Kelly being required to appear in the morning. Kelly did not appear, but Quillan appeared as his agent and attorney, and made agreement with the complaining witness and the Court that if Ann Smith would withdraw the complaint he would pay all costs for defendant. He knew the District Attorney's fees were embraced in the costs, and gave his word that he would pay the amount; and the Court, taking him for a gentleman, entered the agreement on the docket. But when the bill was sent to him, he repudiated it. An execution was issued and levy made on the property of Kelly in Quillan's hands, and then, on Quillan refusing to pay over the amount, he was cited to appear for contempt. At this stage an attorney appeared and took advantage of the irregularity caused by my trusting to the word of said Quillan. As far as the District Attorney is concerned, his fees have always been embraced as part of the penalty against evil-doers, and in this particular case the defendant knew they were so embraced. As to my authority to include such fees, I refer to pp. 96 and 97, Statutes of 1869. Under this section I always have, and until a higher authority denies the right, shall continue to make the District Attorney's fees a part of the penalty of misdemeanors. T. A. STOUTENBURGH.

JAMES MCGUFFIE, one of the pioneers of this county, and a gentleman universally respected, is lying dangerously ill at Hiko. He sent a messenger to town yesterday for a physician, and Mr. Henderson, County Recorder, departed an hour later with Dr. Bishop.

DR. D. L. DEAL was yesterday appointed County Physician, his salary being fixed at $200 a month, and no other practitioner will be allowed any remuneration for attending the indigent sick. He had before acted by special request of the Commissioners.

SPECIAL NOTICE DEPARTMENT.—In this department of to-day's issue O'Neill & Armstrong have something to say to some of their old acquaintances. And right by the side of their notice you are told where to get something "rich, racy and rare."

REDUCTION IN TELEGRAPH CHARGES.—The Deseret Telegraph Company have reduced their rates to $2.50 for ten words to any office east of Ogden; each additional word, 17 cents. Dispatches can be sent from Pochie to San Francisco by this company without repeating.

TO ARRIVE TO-DAY.—The following passengers left Hamilton yesterday for Pochie, who will arrive on to-day's stage: Homer S. King, Mrs. Norman Wines, George Booth, James Whitmore, Henry Dobson.

THE county jail is being renovated—in accordance, we suppose, with recommendations of the Grand Jury. A neat room is being erected for the occupancy of the jailer.

THE County Commissioners met yesterday, and passed upon a number of bills. The Clerk, being too busy to make up the minutes, we cannot give the full proceedings until our next.

THE County Recorder will be absent for a few days. The duties of the office, in the meantime, will be attended to by Mr. Cotton and J. C. Henderson.

HAMILTON STAGE REGULAR HEREAFTER.—Jot Travis, of the Hamilton stage line, says that the Hamilton stages will hereafter run regularly on time.

REPORTED CONSOLIDATION.—It was reported on the streets last evening that the American Flag and Arkansas mining companies had consolidated.

DISTRICT COURT.—The argument in the case of Newland vs. Seals et al., an important mining suit, was concluded last night.

DR. DEAL returned last night. He had a hard trip, but left his patient out of danger—as we heard him telling an inquiring friend.

A NUMBER of freight wagons arrived yesterday, loaded with merchandise. Mostly ox teams.

The churches were all well filled night before last. We are fast becoming civilized.

SEVERAL new residences are being erected on McCannan street.

The Applebee case was continued. It will be tried to-day.
